We recently met wife and husband filmmakers Marylou and Jerome Bongiorno at the latest venue for their film New Work 3D – Newark Liberty International Airport. Terminal B, to be exact.

The Bongiornos worked with the airport to bring their film – a beautiful paean to their hometown of Newark, and a nod to the rich history of cinematic portraits of great cities – to a part of the airport where international travelers could take about 6 or 7 minutes and immerse themselves in the local culture, albeit virtually.

Watch the State of the Arts story about this dynamic duo Sunday, March 23!
